ORGANISATION BACKGROUND

inTouch Multicultural Centre Against Family Violence provides services, programs and responses to issues of family violence in refugee and multicultural communities. By acknowledging the rights and diverse experiences of our clients, we develop and implement a number of culturally sensitive and holistic models for the provision of services to both victims and perpetrators of family violence. In tackling the issues of family violence we act on multiple levels – individual, relationship and community.

Vision

inTouch’s vision is for culturally diverse families to live free from violence.

Purpose

inTouch’s purpose is simple and clear – we are committed to changing lives, changing communities for the better.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Direct Services Team, provides “inLanguage inCulture” case management services to migrant and refugee victim survivors of family violence. This covers a range of modalities and settings, including intake, phone and face to face support, court and outreach services, community education and recovery groups.

Our case managers have specialised understanding of the issues related to the intersection of family violence, culture, temporary migration, family law and the legal system. They provide a bridge between countries and cultures as they are able to assist clients build their understanding and help them navigate Australian systems and laws compared to the systems from their own country.

The Motivation for Change Program is specifically tailored to men from culturally and linguistically diverse communities who use violence towards family members. It aims to help men reflect on their behaviours and learn ways to relate without using violence as well as access services to help change their behaviour.
